AGENDA:

- Welcome & Introduction (10 minutes)
- Student presentation (Nur - 5 min presentation & 15 min Q&A)
- Session on presentation skills (Neil - 20 min presentation & 5 min Q&A)
- Newsletter update

1. Introductions to new members

In total we were 34 attendees to this meeting. Some new members introduced themselves, though not all, thus it was not possible to record the affiliations and contact details of all participants.

2. Student presentation (Ms Nur Shafika, student at Universitas Diponegoro, Indonesia)

Research aim: Understanding the factors influencing migrations of fishers to find better fishing locations, and understanding the transfer of knowledge and technology resulting from the migration.

Ms Shafika identified push and pull factors for migration, including market demands, known fishing resources available, overfishing and lack of opportunities in central, northern Java. One highlight of her research is the importance of the role of migrant fishers in sharing knowledge with other fishers.

3. Presentation skills (Prof. Neil Loneragan)

Tips on presentation skills. It covered the differences between oral and written presentations, the effective use of graphics (e.g., colours, font sizes, etc) as well as images (instead of text).

Action: Presentation will be shared as a PDF on the AFS website for anyone interested, as well as by email to group members. If you cannot find it, please email Clara Obregón or Neil Loneragan for details.

4. Newsletter update

End of this month – deadline for any articles or information included in the 1st issue

Anything coming in afterwards (from October onwards) will be included in the next newsletter issue.

Action: If you would like to have your article published in the first issue of the newsletter, please send the article to Carlo by COB this Friday 4th October
